Subject.

Extension of Act XXVI of 1881 (the Negotiable Instruments Act) to the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore.

Notes and orders.

Serial No. 14.

1. In the letter cited above, the Civil and Sessions Judge of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore requests that Act XXVI of 1881 (the Negotiable Instruments Act) may be extended to the Station. The extention of the Act will, in Colonel Hill's opinion, facilitate the decision of questions of law which frequently arise in Cases brought upon Negotiable instruments in his Court.

2. Soon after the Rendition and the assignment to the British Government of the tract now forming the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, the Chief Judge of Mysore, who was at the time also the Chief Judge of the Station, recommended the Extension to the Station of the Enactments named below:—

(1) Act VIII of 1882 - An Act to amend the Indian Penal Code — Serial No. 1.

(2) Act X of 1882 — The Code of Criminal Procedure —

(3) Act XXVI of 1881 (The Negotiable Instruments Act) — Serial No. 2.

(4) Act VI of 1882 (The Indian Companies Act) — Serial No. 3.

(5) Act IV of 1882 (The Transfer of property Act) — Serial No. 4

(6) Act XIV of 1882 (The Code of Civil Procedure) — Serial No. 6

3. In letters Nos. 15/9 and 74/27 dated respectively the 18th and 13th April 1882 addressed to the Government of India in the Foreign Department, Sir James Gordon, who was Resident — Serial Nos. 5 & 7.

at the time, recommended the extension to the Station of all the Acts named above.

Serial No. 9.

4. Subsequently in letter No. 1429/276 dated the 20th September 1882, addressed from this office to the Government of India in the Foreign Department, Mr J. D. Sandford, who was then officiating as Resident, recommended the extension of the Kazis Act (XII of 1880).

5 The Government of India thereupon issued one General Notification (No. 529. J. dated the 1st March 1883) in which they included all the Acts named above Except the Negotiable Instruments Act XXVI of 1881, the Act now under reference. In regard to this Act the Government of India stated in para 3 of

Act had not been included in the Notification because it seemed desirable to reserve the question of extending ~~former~~ that Act for more deliberate consideration

6. No further communication on the subject has yet been received from the Government of India.

7. Under these circumstances, it is respectfully submitted that the attention of the Government of India may be invited to para 3 of its letter No. 705. J. dated the 17th March 1883, with a request that early orders may be passed on the subject as the Civil and Sessions Judge of the Civil and Military Station has recommended the Extension of the Act stating that it would facilitate the decision of questions of law regarding Negotiable instruments

20. It will be seen from paragraphs ~~2 and 3~~ 2, 3 and 7 above that application was made from this Office for the extension of the Negotiable Instruments Act XXVI of 1881. The Government of India has now not only sanctioned the extension of that Act to the C & M Station but has also, of its own motion, extended the provisions of Sections ※ 25 & 26 of the Indian Paper Currency Act XX of 1882.

21. A copy of the Notification now received from the Government of India may, it is submitted, be sent to the Civil and Sessions Judge, C & M Station of Bangalore, for information. ~~and Guidance~~

22. A draft letter to the Civil & Sessions Judge is herewith submitted for approval.

Sir,

I have the honor to request that you will be so good as to lay before the Resident the desirability of moving the Government of India to extend Act XXVI of 1881, (the Negotiable Instrument Act) to the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore.

Its extension is in my opinion necessary to facilitate the decision of questions of law that arise frequently in cases brought upon such instruments in this Court.

Sir

I have the honor to invite attention to paragraph 3 of letter No. 705 J. dated the 17th March 1883 from your office, in which it was stated that the question of extending Act XXVI of 1881 (the Negotiable Instruments Act) to the Civil and Military station of Bangalore was referred for the consideration of the Government of India but that it would receive attention as early as possible.

2... I beg now to request that the Government of India may be pleased to pass early orders on the subject as the Civil Judge of the Civil and Military Station has repeatedly represented that the extension of the Act would facilitate the decision of questions of law relating to negotiable instruments which frequently arise in his Court. I would remind you that this was also the opinion of the late Chief Commissioner Sir James Gordon & Mr Sandeman.
